Our hosts

WeLoveToBrunchAroundTheWorld

In Italy all relationships, friendships and business deals start and are sealed around a table, in front of some food. With this in mind, the three founders - all Italian - have decided to bring that tradition to London through @WeLoveToBrunch, an Instagram platform that allows foodies, photography enthusiasts and like-minded people to meet. Inverting the usual trend of "walk-pub" in London instameets, @welovetobrunch allows people to firstly connect and share, and then explore together after bonding has already developed. At our brunches there is no competition, no judgment and no secrets. The key (and only rule) is that everybody is welcome in line with the true Instagram "community first" spirit. Since last year, when we started this little reunions, @WeLoveToBrunch has seen many friendships blossom, business partnership taking shape and much more.
